Tinker Bell discovers that she is a tinker fairy. The tinker fairies help all of the other fairies get ready for spring. Today the tinkers deliver more pots to the pollen fairies. Look around Flower Meadow to find some of the fairies' favorite flowers.

The fairies work hard to fill Springtime Square with all the things they will need to take to the mainland. The Minister of Spring is pleased to announce that everything will be ready in time. But the fairies still have lots of work to do. Look for these ladybugs that the animal fairies are painting.

If you find trouble in Pixie Hollow, you can bet that Vidia isn't far away! When Vidia tricks Tinker Bell into trying to round up the Sprinting Thistles, all of the preparations for spring are ruined. Track down these thistles before they sprint away.

Tink decides to make some new inventions that will help the fairies. She searches the beach for Lost Things that she can use. Hunt for these items that she will bring back to Tinker's Nook.

Tinker Bell saved the day! Her new inventions helped the fairies finish all the preparations for spring. Now that the Everblossom has bloomed, it's time for the fairies to bring spring to the mainland. But they can't do it alone. Look for these buzzing bees that the fairies depend on for help.

Finally, the moment has arrived! The fairies awaken nature with the magic of spring. They get some help from their friends, the birds. Hurry to search for these dazzling snowflakes before they disappear.

Tinker Bell watches the other fairies use their talents to fill the garden with sunshine and flowers. Tink loves all of the colors of spring. Find some of her favorite colors in these butterflies that flutter by.

Each fairy in Pixie Hollow has a special talent, and Tinker Bell will soon discover hers. Return to the Pixie Dust Well to find these objects that represent some of the many different talent groups.
